Looking at this newest iteration from Sprint 3, I can see good progress has been made. Having the report function send a real email to an account is a good step. The overall UI is very clean and easy to read.

My suggestions for feedback would be to remove the mentions of searching by Zip code as he mentioned the client wanting his team to focus on other areas. If that search parameter isn't implemented then it may be confusing for the client/other teams that work on this project.

Overall, I am impressed by the progress that Vishal and his team made on their end. Providing feedback for each sprint, I could see that steady improvements were being implemented.
